Politics, Culture & Socialization

Vol. 3 2012, No. 1/2  Special Issue

“Is Socialization into Democratic Politics a Matter of Psychology, Education, or Communication?”

Content

Preface ....................................................................................................................... 3

Articles

Arie Geronik
Early Childhood Socialization and Its Influence on Political Decision-Making in Adulthood: The Cases of Moshe Dayan and Other Israeli Leaders, Moving from the Military to the Political Arena ................................................................. 5

Mihály Csákó
Family Memory and Historical Socialization ......................................................... 13

Henk Dekker and Frits Meijerink
Political Cynicism: Conceptualization, Operationalization, and Explanation .......... 33

Wojciech Ziętara
Legitimization function of the Socialist International: The case of the Central-Eastern Europe (CEE) ................................................................. 49

Martina Zandonella and Eva Zeglovits
Young Men and their Vote for the Radical Right in Austria: Can Personality Traits, Right-wing Authoritarianism and Social Dominance Orientation Contribute to the Explanation of Radical Right Voting? ......................................................... 63

Hilde Van Liefferinge, Carl Devos and Kristof Steyvers
No Name, no Gain? The Role of Family Politicization in Belgian Election Candidates’ Perception of their Initial Selection Criteria ........................................ 81

Sam Sarpong
Savouring Ghanaian Politics at an Election Year: How Titillating? ......................... 101
2

Helen Shestopal
Political Perception: Psychological Mechanisms and Political Implications in Russia ........................................................................................................................ 115

Christ’l De Landtsheer and Lieuwe Kalkhoven
The Smell of Crisis: Style and Rhetoric of Political Parties in and outside Crisis Situations ................................................................................................................... 131

Vimla Verma
Psycho-Political Analysis of Leadership and Democracy ......................................... 155

Alexandra Toader
Gheorghe Gheorghiu–Dej’s Personality Cult, in the Light of Psychobiography: A Methodological Approach ..................................................................................... 165

Ali Abdelzadeh and Joakim Ekman
Understanding Critical Citizenship and Other Forms of Public Dissatisfaction: An Alternative Framework ........................................................................................ 177

Book Reviews

Jolanda van der Noll
Thinking through Islamophobia: global perspectives.

Daniel B. German
Race, Housing & Community: Perspectives on Policy & Practice.
By Harris Beider (2012) ............................................................................................ 198

Hans IJsenbout
Democratic thought in the age of globalization.
By Maria Marczewska-Rytko (Ed.) (2012) ............................................................... 201

Christ’l De Landtsheer
The role of cognition and affect in right-wing ideology: Relationships of cognitive style, threat proneness and psychological well-being with social attitudes.
By Emma Onraet (2012) ........................................................................................... 205

Conference Section .................................................................................................. 207